

CNS infections from Bench to Bedside

Christian Brandt

Christian Brandt from Dep. of Infectious Diseases at Zealand University Hospital will present the original ideas and studies leading to more than 3 decades of research focusing on anti-inflammatory strategies in order to improve survival and reduce brain injuries in Central nervous system infections. Also, the current and future clinical research strategies will be discussed.